

Joella J Brooks You can say what you will, but I'm not a vegan. I believe that we all have a right to our opinions & I was trying to point that out. I say don't tell me what to eat & I won't tell you what to eat. I don't want to see dogs & cats die for whatever reason. The animals are not destroying the Earth. Vegans are. Plants breathe in carbon dioxide & breathe out oxygen to help us survive. You plant eaters are destroying the very things that help you breathe. Plants are alive, yet you kill them for food. Who's the bad guy now?
